Packaging Materials Selector©

sustainable packaging alliance

One of the challenges for packaging developers is finding up-to-date and accessible information on packaging materials. In response to this gap, SPA has compiled an easy-to-use summary of commonly used polymers, metals and fibres. Useful for packaging technologists, brand managers, designers, environment managers, and policy makers, the Packaging Materials Selector© features information on material characteristics, packaging applications and recycling and other environmental considerations.

You can now order your copy of the Full Colour Laminated A3 Poster, featuring an easy to read format and handy web-links, by completing this form.
